Rabbi's Message: Opening the Doors to our Hearts

“Rosh Hashana is a moment of opening. The gates of repentance swing wide; the Book of Life is turned to a new page. For a few precious days the portals are unlocked and open.... But even as the gates of repentance are closing, others begin to open: the gates of prayer, the gates of tears, the gates of righteousness. Our challenge is not merely to enter the New Year, but to discover the many openings to a better life.” (Rabbi Laura Lieber, Mishkan HaNefesh)

As we prepare for our second High Holy Days together, I am struck by the image of doors opening. I am grateful to all of you who made me feel welcome as I walked through the doors of Vassar Temple and made it my home. Now, my life's work is opening our doors to others; making sure people feel welcome in our community, and helping them unlock meaningful experiences of prayer, learning, and service.

There are many doors to open as we enter the High Holy Days. Our liturgy imagines that God opens the gates of repentance, allowing us to enter a “sacred portal” to self-examination and transformation. But nothing is more important than opening the doors of our hearts.

We open the doors to our hearts as we invite the community to join us for the High Holy Days. This will be our second year providing entrance to our worship experiences by recommended donation, opening Vassar Temple's doors to those with financial constraints. How will we open our hearts to make members, newcomers, and guests feel a part of our family when they walk through our doors?

We open the doors to our hearts as we experience the High Holy Day liturgy. Each year, we savor familiar words and melodies, and also search for new meanings, as Rav Kook said, “to make the old new, and the new sacred.” This year is our last year celebrating High Holy Days with Gates of Repentance, before we transition to the new Reform machzor, Mishkan HaNefesh (Sanctuary of the Soul). This year we will incorporate elements of this dynamic, powerful new prayer book into our Yom Kippur Afternoon Service, as well as moments of reflection throughout the High Holy Days. How will we open our hearts to experience these new prayers?

We open the doors to our hearts as we consider the experience of those seeking entrance to our country, through what poet Emma Lazarus called “the Golden Door.” How will we open our hearts to those seeking a new life in our great nation?

In that vein, we are delighted to welcome the Honorable Judge Robert D. Weisel, Assistant Chief Immigration Judge for the United States Department of Justice, to our Selichot observance on Saturday, September 24th beginning at 7:30 pm. Between the presentation of the Arnold Award and our Selichot service, Judge Weisel will discuss how the court has responded to migration crises throughout our nation's history.

Opening doors—in ourselves, in our community, and in our nation—is sacred and difficult work, and I can't do it alone. Please join with me as we strive to fulfill the words of our new machzor, “let none be excluded from our community of prayer...let all find a place in this sacred assembly.”

Rabbi Leah Berkowitz

From Our Temple President

Summer is just about behind us but the inspiration and enjoyment many of us gained from the lay led services remain. Many thanks to the members of our congregation who took the time to lead Friday night prayers and share their insights and wisdom with us. Thank you to Rabbi Golomb for leading a service in July and to Sandra Mamis for organizing and scheduling the lay leaders. I hope many of you were able to attend, participate and enjoy.

The Temple Board of Trustees met twice during the summer to conduct Temple business. Our finances continue to be a focus for the Board. Membership dues are not sufficient to pay all the overhead.

Generous contributions are very helpful as are the fundraising events throughout the year. Additional dues paying members will also aid in meeting the Temple's obligations. A gala is being planned for this year. You will soon hear more about the gala from the chairpersons. Should you wish to assist in making the gala a success, please volunteer.

With the help of our members, Rabbi Berkowitz and the Temple staff, we will continue to build on our congregation's past successes. We hope to grow the membership this year and provide opportunities for members to become more involved. We are exploring ways to offer our congregants even greater benefits. The Board of Trustees and committee chairs will participate this month in a daylong retreat led by a URJ facilitator. I look forward to sharing with the congregation our plans on moving forward. I also ask for your help and welcome your suggestions.

We now look forward to the beginning of religious school with our new Director, Julie Stein-Makowsky. Shortly after school starts, Rabbi Berkowitz will lead us through the High Holy days. I look forward to sharing the New Year with you at Vassar Temple, “where you belong.”

New Paths Saturday Morning Worship

Join us at the New Paths sabbath morning service Saturday, Sept. 24th at 10:00am in the informal, intimate setting of Vassar Temple's East Chapel. The moving liturgy of the New Paths prayer book includes both traditional and contemporary writings, mostly in English, and participants may bring supplemental materials to share. Each New Paths service, whether lay led or rabbi led, provides a unique and thoughtful shabbat morning experience. A brief mini-kiddush follows. For more information, please contact Marian Schwartz mschwa9882@aol.com, Rabbi Berkowitz rabbi@vassartemple.org, or the Temple office at 845-454-2570.

Selichot Program: Sept. 24th

As we enter a season of cheshbon hanefesh (accounting of the soul) both for our community and our nation, we are delighted to host the Honorable Robert D. Weisel, Assistant Chief Immigration Judge for the United States Department of Justice, as guest speaker during our Selichot program, to be held in the social hall Saturday night, Sept. 24th.

The evening's events begin at 7:30pm with a scrumptious dessert reception to honor Linda Cantor as she is presented the Arnold Award in recognition of her invaluable contributions to the religious life of the Temple, following which the lovely ritual of havdalah will usher out the Sabbath.

Afterward, Judge Weisel will be speaking on how the Court has responded to various migration crises in our nation's history.

The Selichot service (penitential prayers) will begin at approximately 9:30pm in the main sanctuary. The lateness of the hour adds to the mood of quiet and introspection that is central to this observance. Selichot helps us reflect on our guiding values and turns us toward the ideals we hold for ourselves and for our community. Please join us in these powerful and moving acts of preparation for the High Holy Days that will follow.

We Need Your Help!

We are, once again, asking that you be the eyes and ears in the lives of our congregational family. Federal patient privacy regulations limit the information that hospitals make available to clergy and volunteers.

We are encouraging you to contact the Temple office when a congregant is admitted to a hospital and wishes to have Rabbi visit during the hospital stay. Our goal is to meet the needs of all our congregants, and we can only do this with your help.

Protein Plenty!!! Summer 2016

Thank you VT members for, once again, working together to reduce hunger in our community by responding to our Temple's annual summer Protein Plenty!!! drive. As a result of your generous donations, an abundant load of protein-based food was purchased and delivered to both the Beulah Baptist Church Food Pantry and Dutchess Outreach. Both of these pantries are well established and effectively serve Poughkeepsie residents in need of food supplies. 100% of your donations resulted in the purchase of foods in bulk supply like beef and chicken ramen, canned chili, canned frank 'n' beans, peanut butter, tuna, boxes of mac'n'cheese, canned lasagna and ravioli, canned spaghetti and meatballs and more!

A lovely added joy to share: Shortly after we arrived at Beulah Baptist Church and began unloading their share to the pantry, a deacon who delivers donated breads to them each week drove up to unload his bounty as well. As we helped each other in, we also realized together the beauty and power of Vassar Temple's efforts and his own to reduce hunger. A gorgeous handshake and hug said it all.

Well done, Vassar Temple friends, well done.

2016 Rabbi Stephen A. Arnold Award Recipient

Linda Cantor will be the 2016 recipient of the Rabbi Stephen A. Arnold Award, given annually by the Ritual Committee to recognize an extraordinary contributor to the religious life of the Temple, embodying the realms of study, worship, and acts of loving kindness.

Linda has long been involved on the Adult Ed and Ritual Committees, was an original leader of New Paths, organizer and facilitator of the Jewish Meditation group, and most recently of the Wise Aging group. And she extended all these spiritually oriented activities not only to Temple members but to the entire community. Linda has brought numerous inspiring speakers to Temple programs and to the annual Fanny Berlin Lectures. She chaired this year's joint shabbaton, and has helped plan, staff, and even teach numerous adult ed courses at the Temple.

As a member of the Nachamu Committee, she helped put together a booklet, available on our website, designed to help those dealing with the difficult situation of death and dying. And she has contributed to the success of Sisterhood's Women's Seders, the annual Sisterhood Shabbat, and our lay led summer services. Linda also organized the social action Solar Cooker Project, which again was shared with other groups in the local community, increasing awareness and empowering others to conduct their own fundraising drives for this life preserving project.

Come to honor Linda as she receives this award... for all her wonderful contributions... during the festive dessert reception that will open our Selichot program Saturday evening, Sept. 24th.

From the Religious School Director: Lifelong Jewish Learning

Recently one of my Bat Mitzvah students asked me to help her understand her Torah portion as she was soon to write her D'var Torah. Instead of looking at the individual verses and trying to glean meaning from each one, I asked her to step back from her portion and to look at what led up to the portion. Earlier in the summer we read Parshat Chukkat. It is in this portion that Moses is denied the privilege of entering the Promised Land with his Kehilla (the community of Israelites that he had lead across the Red Sea and through the desert.) There is much written and said about why he earned this punishment but what I find most important is how he dealt with this denial.

In the final book of the Torah, Deuteronomy, we are treated to a retelling of many of the things that had come before. A rendition of the important points for the Israelites to remember as they were about to depart from their beloved leader and enter a new life. No longer a nomadic people, the Israelites needed to have the details on how to conduct themselves as Jews. Moses is the narrator of this retelling. He becomes the teacher that many of us strive to be as he creates a structure of understanding for the Israelites to follow.

As I was weighing these thoughts and discussing them with my student, I realized that Moses is one of my most important mentors. Upon this realization, I suddenly understood why I felt driven to studying and then working in the field of Jewish Education.

I believe that one of my roles as Vassar Temple's Education Director is to help create a structure of understanding for our students as they embark on their journeys of lifelong Jewish learning. In creating the foundation for this structure, it is important to learn about and understand how we came to be in this place

This year my role will be to begin to build this structure. I intend to introduce a new Hebrew Curriculum, Mitkadem, developed by the Union of Reform Judaism. The curriculum engages students in reading, chanting and singing prayers while also teaching the concepts of grammar, giving the students an understanding of how Hebrew is built on a root system.

Mitkadem is designed for supplementary Hebrew schools with an understanding that students start their Hebrew education at various ages and abilities.

Sunday morning Religious School program begins on Sunday, September 18th.

Wednesday afternoon Hebrew program will now include Grade 4.

I look forward to meeting all of our Religious School families!

One of the most rewarding things I have done as a Jewish Educator is to prepare students for their Bar and Bat Mitzvah. The role I get to play in helping students begin to understand their own connections to our people and heritage is very fulfilling. I am so blessed that I have role models like Moses and others to help me to understand that what is most important is building a structure of understanding – one that our students and their families can turn to and rely on as they continue along their journeys.

Julie Makowski

Vital Chapter of Holocaust History Revisited at Vassar Temple

On June 15, 2016, approximately 150 individuals, including a group of 30 educators from Long Island, gathered at Vassar Temple to examine one of the most significant refugee events in world history. Complicit, the documentary film featuring the story of the SS Saint Louis, was shown. A discussion with the film's director, Robert Krakow, who traveled to Poughkeepsie from his home in Florida for this event, as well as Sonja Geismar, a survivor of the SS St. Louis, and local resident Debbie Sylvester, the daughter of another survivor, followed the screening.

Complicit chronicles the story of the SS Saint Louis, the ship that sailed from Hamburg, Germany in 1939 with 937 Jews aboard trying to escape Adolf Hitler's "Final Solution" and seeking entry into the United States via Cuba. Upon arrival, the ship's passengers' visas were rendered invalid and they were denied entry. After several weeks at sea pleading with the US, Canadian and Cuban governments, the SS St. Louis was forced to return to Europe where it is estimated that nearly one-third of the passengers perished in German concentration camps.

The film explores the Roosevelt administration's role in the series of events that transpired. Through historical film footage, survivor interviews and dramatic interludes, Complicit recounts the story of this ill-fated voyage. Included in the film is a mock trial that confronts the Roosevelt Administration's flawed WWII refugee policy, based on a play written by Krakow. In addition, the film documents the US State Department's formal apologies to the surviving passengers of SS St. Louis.

This was an extraordinarily rare and moving event in our community as it included the film's director, Robert Krakow, participating in a discussion with a survivor and family members of survivors after the film. Robert Krakow is the Executive Director of the SS St. Louis Legacy Project Foundation, a nonprofit organization that uses education through drama to enlighten audiences on events in world history, including the story of the voyage of the SS St. Louis.

The event was organized in partnership with the Long Island Temple Educators (LITE) with support from the Irving and Gloria Schlossberg Family Fund of the Community Foundations of the Hudson Valley and the Poughkeepsie Public Library District. Vassar Temple organizers were Bob Ritter, Jennifer Sachs Dahnert, and Cathy Bokor.

Reform Jewish Voice of NYS Celebrates Victories!

Our first victory was the passage of an ethics and campaign finance package that prevents public officials who have been convicted of corruption from collecting their pensions and further restricts coordination between political campaigns and organizations making independent expenditures. We will continue to urge the legislature to act to close the LLC (Limited Liability Company) loophole.

We also saw this year's session end without passage of legislation to support the Education Tax Credit. RJV advocated tirelessly against this legislation, which seemed to have strong support in the Senate, and which would have diverted tax dollars from public education to private and religious schools, raising First Amendment concerns and giving New York's wealthiest taxpayers a substantial break on their state income tax. RJV will keep opposing this harmful proposal, fight to preserve separation of church and state, and strengthen public education.

Finally, the legislature passed a bill we strongly supported that expands the powers and responsibilities of the State Education Commissioner to oversee the fiscal activities of the East Ramapo School Board, continues independent monitoring of the Board, and provides additional funding to enable restoration of academic programs for public school students in that district. However, the legislation is only effective for one year, so we will continue to work with East Ramapo community advocates for long-term solutions that serve the district's public school students.

To find out more about RJV's priorities visit www.rjvnys.org. To join with a local group to call, write to, or visit local offices of your state legislators to discuss important social and economic justice issues such as these that are facing our state, contact socialaction@vassartemple.org.

2016 Founder's Service Award Recipient

The Temple Board has awarded this year's Founder's Service Award for providing "consistent, extensive, exemplary service to Vassar Temple over an extended period of time" to David Lampell.

David grew up at our temple, became an outstanding president of our Youth Group, and went on to become NFTY president as well as a youth group advisor. In more recent years, David has been Temple President, First VP, Second VP, and a valued advisor to sitting leaders of the Temple, as well as serving in a wide variety of other capacities over the years including: Chair of the House Committee, Head Usher, Rabbi Search Committee member, electronics and phone system consultant and Skype expert, while also offering major support with our A/V and lighting systems during innumerable Temple events. An active member of the Men's Club, David has worked on Sukkah building, numerous remodeling projects at the Temple over the years, and dealt with building repairs. He also helped on Temple social action projects including Mitzvah Day, local Habitat for Humanity builds, and rebuilding a church down South.

David is truly a man of many talents, and this award expresses how grateful we are that he has unselfishly shared so much of his time and expertise with Vassar Temple over the years.

Temple Receives "Travel Justly" Grant

Registration at every major Reform Movement event since 2008 has included an option for participants to donate to Travel Justly, the Reform Movement's environmental sustainability fund. And since 2008, 100% of the funds collected through Travel Justly have been allocated to greening and sustainability projects in Reform congregations, camps, kibbutzim, and local communities, to help reduce carbon footprints such as those we create in our travels.

In 2016, Vassar Temple was selected to receive a Travel Justly grant in the amount of $500, to help defray the expense of our Temple's energy saving lighting project. Thanks to the Vassar Temple Social Action Committee (and to Sherrie Geisler) for all their help in obtaining the grant!

Words from Wayne Cochran

*Life is lessons, not in "getting what you need"
instead of "getting what you want"—you may not—
but in GIVING.
If nobody noticed, Adonai does.*

~Wayne Norman Cochran~

When justice and fairness seem a world away, we turn to Adonai like the cold earth at dawn turns toward the freshening sun. Even in the presence of deep disappointment or a dire threat, God will love us and warm us so we, too, may be loving and warm to others.

The bitter seed we toss out; it shall not take root in us.
